GOV. MORRISON RE-ELECTED

Callan, Beermann In Tight Contest

... Cunningham And Martin Both Win

By DON WALTON

Star Staff Writer

Two Republican congressmen won re-election handily early Wednesday, but the third—Rep. Ralph Beermann—was locked in a tight battle with Democrat Clair Callan in the First District.

Callan moved within striking distance of Beermann, and the Republican was failing to pick up even half of the total vote—split into a third spot by petition candidate George Menkens.

Second District Democratic nominee Thomas Bonner conceded to Rep. Glenn Cunningham at midnight, and Third District Rep. Dave Martin mounted a 2 to 1 lead over John Hoffman out west.

Beermann, 50-year-old Dakota City farmer and businessman, grabbed an early lead over Callan, then watched his margin melt as the count mounted.

Seeking a second term after his upset primary triumph over GOP Rep. Phil Weaver in the reapportioned 30-county district, Beermann ran as an unyielding constitutional conservative.

Callan, 42, Odell livestock raiser and businessman, keyed his campaign to an "affirmative" program of farm assistance, resource development and industrial growth.

Campaigning hard since August, Callan put to use political savvy gained from previous races for Congress (1956 and 1958) and the U.S. Senate (1960).

In 1958, he won the Democratic congressional nomination.

Another Day's Fair Skies Seen

The generally fair skies going to the polls Tuesday are expected to last at least through Wednesday, the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted.

Highs are expected to be in the 40s east and central, contrasting with high around 60 in that area Tuesday. In the Panhandle, however, slightly warmer temperatures rising to near 60 should prevail.

The state high Tuesday was 63 at Grand Island, Burwell and Norfolk; the low, 30 at the Lincoln Air Force Base, North Platte and Grand Island. Lincoln itself had temperatures of 60 and 34.

Farm Credit Bank Re-Elects Iowan

Omaha (P)—Milford Beeghly of Pierson, Ia., has been re-elected to a 3-year term on the Board of Directors of the Farm Credit Banks of Omaha, Thomas A. Maxwell, general agent, announced Tuesday.

Beeghly was elected to a second term by co-operatives which borrow from the Omaha Bank for Cooperatives in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming.

The Weather

LINCOLN: Fair, windy and cooler. High in upper 40s.

EAST AND CENTRAL NEBRASKA: Mostly fair and cooler. Highs in the 40s.

Close Race

GOPers Leading

Callan led in populous Lincoln.

In the Omaha-dominated, 4-county Second District, Rep. Glenn Cunningham, 50, senior member of the Nebraska House delegation, moved far in front of Democratic liberal Thomas Bonner.

Bonner, 39, Omaha University professor on leave, campaigned in support of the Kennedy program, challenging Cunningham's conservatism record.

The Republican congressman, a former (1948-54) mayor of Omaha, was first elected in 1956 and was seeking his 14th consecutive Omaha area campaign victory.

Heaviest lead in the House race went to Rep. Dave Martin in the huge 59-county western Third District.

Martin, 55, Kearney lumberman and another doctrinaire conservative, piled up a large margin over Democrat John Hoffman, 35-year-old Clearwater grocer.

Martin was first elected in 1960.

Governor Watches Returns

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison early Wednesday swept to a dramatic re-election triumph over Republican challenger Fred Seaton. Seaton conceded at 2:10 a.m.

For Morrison, victory marked an intensely personal triumph over the leadership of both political parties, including his own.

Seaton's concession came as Morrison's lead mounted to nearly 22,000 votes.

The governor—operating his own campaign independent of his party—parlayed his on-the-street political campaign craftsmanship into what was developing into a surprisingly heavy majority.

Morrison won election in 1960 by 24,000 votes.

Contacted at the Governor's Mansion where his supporters ignited a joyous fireworks victory celebration at 1 a.m., Morrison said he "appreciated the fact that so many people expressed confidence in the state administration."

The governor termed the trend "encouraging."

First Statewide Race

For Seaton, the defeat choked off an effort to win his first statewide election race after long service in high government office.

The 52-year-old Hastings publisher and broadcasting executive carried into the campaign a national reputation and an unprecedented list of administrative credentials.

Seaton served as a two-term state senator, a U.S. senator by appointment and in a long succession of appointive posts under President Eisenhower, including tenure as secretary of interior in the cabinet.

Morrison, 57, defeated at the polls 5 times in contests for major state and national office prior to his 1960 election, asked voters for more time to "complete our program."

He stressed progress in agricultural research, industrial development, tourism and increased state pride.

Other GOPers Win

Morrison, the state's 31st chief executive, won his victory despite a badly divided Democratic Party and in the face of otherwise total Republican victory in Nebraska.

In spite of a pronounced GOP registration dominance, Republicans have not elected a governor since 1956.

History also entered the struggle: No incumbent governor has been denied a second term since 1930.

Incumbents Lead

In other Statehouse races, 5 Republican incumbent officeholders piled up decisive margins over their Democratic challengers.

In the only tight race, Railway Commissioner Wayne Swanson, 47, held a slim lead over Fred Sorenson, 63, Omaha businessman.

Swanson was seeking a second 6-year term.

As usual, Secretary of State Frank Marsh and Auditor Ray Johnson jumped to the most commanding leads.

Marsh, 38, swept toward his

Seaton Concedes He Is Defeated

sixth term in a battle with 40-year-old Lincoln business school instructor Leonard Foster.

Johnson, 69, dean of the Statehouse crew, was headed toward a 13th consecutive term, overpowering Charles Broderick, 38, Omaha payroll auditor.

Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney, 70, Hartington farmer and livestock raiser, moved en route to a fourth term by jumping out front of retired Lincoln postal worker Rudolph Anderson, 62.

Treasurer Clarence L. E. Swanson, 65, led former treasurer Richard R. Larsen in his bid for a second term. Larsen, 40, of Syracuse, served from 1959-61.

Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer, 52, also moved toward a second term, pushing in front of David Thomas, 38-year-old Lincoln attorney.

Assembly Votes For Total N-Tests Ban

All 4 Atomic Nations Cast No Ballot

.75-10 U.N. Approval

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) — The U.N. General Assembly voted overwhelmingly Tuesday in favor of a resolution to ban all nuclear tests by Jan. 1.

The vote on the proposal, submitted by 37 non-aligned countries, was 75-0, with 21 abstentions.

All 4 nuclear powers — the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France — objected to portions of the draft in voting of individual paragraphs. They all abstained on the final vote.

Another resolution, submitted by the United States and Great Britain also called for an early test ban, but put greater stress on inspection guarantees to check suspected underground tests. The Anglo-American draft was approved, 51-10 with 40 abstentions. The Soviet Bloc voted against it.

Well Above Two-Thirds

The vote on both resolutions was well above the required two-thirds of those present and voting.

Earlier, in the Political Committee, the United States branded as unbelievable Soviet claims that its removal of missile bases from Cuba proves Russia is a peace-loving state.

Valerian A. Zorin of the U.S.S.R. declared that events in Cuba show "the good faith of the Soviet Union in trying to avert war." But Arthur H. Dean of the United States replied:

"I could hardly believe my ears when I heard the Soviet delegate refer to his country as peace-loving for having agreed to remove the very weapons it had put there."

The exchange erupted as the 110-nation Political Committee opened full-scale debate on disarmament.

United States Gives India Aid To Repel Naked Aggression

Washington (UPI) — A State Department spokesman said Tuesday the United States has made clear to India that U.S. arms aid is "for the purpose of repelling naked communist aggression."

The statement by Press Officer Joseph Reap followed reports from New Delhi that U.S. Ambassador J. Kenneth Galbraith had assured the Indian government that the United States does not expect India to give up its policy of non-alignment in return for the weapons help.

Reap said that the terms for the supply of weapons to

Housewife Jailed In Shooting Case; Boyfriend Sought

Police jailed a 52-year-old Lincoln housewife and were seeking her male companion Tuesday night after a spent bullet from their gun entered a nearby home and landed on a desk where a woman was writing a check.

According to Detective Lt. Merl Hesser, the 52-year-old woman and her male friend were shooting pigeons for dinner with a .22 caliber gun.

Hesser said one bullet broke a window at the H. C. King residence, about a half a block away from the pair, and came to rest in front of Mrs. King, seated at a desk in the corner of her living room writing out a check.

Cuban Exiles Say Weapons In Caves

Washington (UPI) — Cuban exiles said Tuesday first-hand reports from the island tell of dozens of underground installations and caves being used to hide missiles and nuclear weapons.

Herminio Portell Vila, a former professor at the University of Havana, said the Soviet Union's military advisers in Cuba have been furnished an extensive list of hiding places by a Cuban speleologist who spent years surveying and mapping Cuba's caves.

Eusebio Mujal Barniol, former secretary general of the Cuban Confederation of Labor, said he has confidential reports from under ground sources in Cuba that caves are being used to hide missiles and nuclear weapons. In addition, he said, the Cuban production of cement plus "fabulous amounts of cement imported from Czechoslovakia," are being used to build underground storage facilities for secret weapons.

Srb was struck by the right front fender of the vehicle, bounced up onto the right windshield, then rolled off the hood on the left side, coming to rest on the pavement some 12 feet east of the point of impact, officers explained.

Soviet Space Ship Corrects Course In Mars Flight

Moscow (UPI) — The Soviet space ship speeding toward Mars is expected to fly over the planet snapping pictures at ranges from 600 to 7,000 miles, a communiqué said Tuesday night.

The original flight plan called for the space station to take a path 300,000 miles from Mars and then swing closer by corrections made while en route.

The space ship was reported responding accurately to directions from earth.

The vehicle, launched Nov. 11, is expected to take 7 months for the journey to the vicinity of Mars.

Jets Pay Tribute To Dead Pilot

Greenville, S.C. (UPI) — A formation of jet fighters, with the No. 2 spot vacant, Tuesday flew over the open grave of Maj. Rudolf Anderson — one of two U2 pilots credited with getting the first conclusive evidence of the Russian missile buildup in Cuba.

Anderson, who failed to return from a mission Oct. 27, was the only known shooting casualty of the Cuban crisis.

He was buried Tuesday with full military honors, including the flyover and a 21-gun salute from the Strategic Air Command (SAC).

About 700 persons stood with heads bowed as an airman sounded taps for the 35-year-old pilot, a native of a western South Carolina town.

SAC Commander Gen. Thomas S. Power paid glowing tribute to Anderson and Maj. Richard S. Heyser, the other U2 pilot who took the initial photograph of Russia's military buildup in Cuba, escorted Anderson's wife and parents.

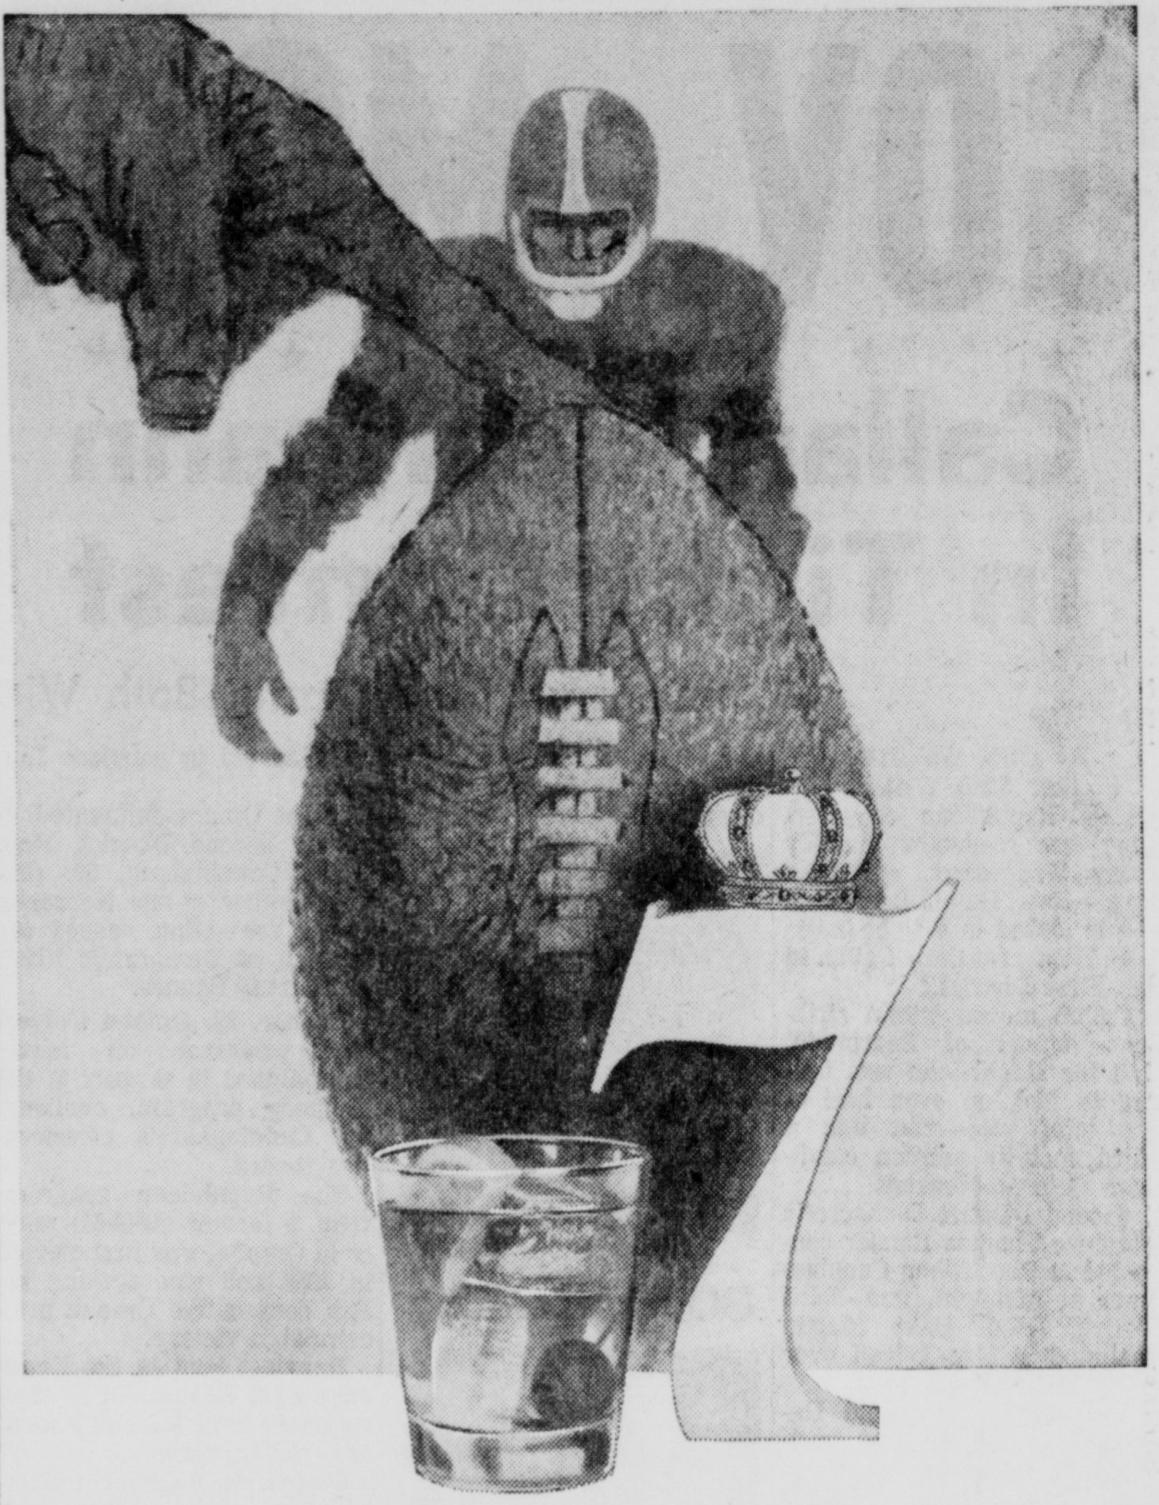

"It is because of men like Major Anderson that this country has been able to act with determination during these fateful days," Power said.

The Air Force revealed shortly before the funeral that Anderson and Heyser were the pilots who gathered the first conclusive evidence of the missile buildup.

Two Girls Jailed For Littering Park With Cans, Bottles

Two Lincoln girls, 18 and 19, were jailed by police for littering a public place Tuesday, according to Detective Lt. Merl Hesser.

Hesser said Officer Willis Gordon had observed the girls emptying between 40 and 50 empty beer bottles, cans, and whisky bottles from their car onto the ground in the City Park, at 24th between N and M, earlier in the day.

Republican Victors Impressive; Demos Keep Congress Control

By The Associated Press

Republicans crashed through to impressive victories in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio Tuesday night, and, with Nelson A. Rockefeller winning easily, retained control of big and powerful New York.

Offsetting these individual GOP victories was the battle for Congress. The Democrats retained control although Republicans made some gains in the House.

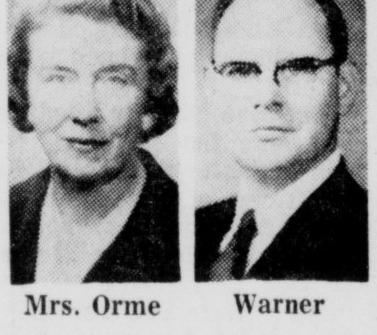

Here are the highlights:

Another Kennedy comes to Washington. Edward (Ted) Kennedy, the President's youngest brother, won his Senate race in Massachusetts.

Dems Surprise

Democrats elected a governor in Vermont for the first time in 108 years and in New Hampshire for the first time in 40 years.

Warner, Mrs. Orme Get Legislative Seats

Mrs. Orme Warner

was the first candidacy for Duxbury, 31-year-old Lincoln attorney.

Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme had little trouble in winning a third term from the 20th District.

The former Lincoln city councilwoman and veteran vote-getter had a 5 to 3 margin against James C. Weaver, 57-year-old oil distributor.

Weaver's only previous attempt for public office was a county commissioner race in 1954.

Marvin E. Stomer, 28 and youngest incumbent senator, had no opposition in his election to a second term from the 19th District.

Five Incumbents Trail In Unicameral Races

By Associated Press

Five incumbent state senators were running behind from a few votes to substantial numbers as returns from Tuesday's general election began to mount.

Former Congressman Don McGinley of O'gallala was leading Sen. Lewis Webb in the 39th District, and former State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff was ahead of Sen. Theodore McCosh by appreciable numbers, in the 42nd, according to Associated Press tabulations.

In the 24th Sen. H. K. Diers was running a little behind Clifton N. Foster of Benedict.

Much closer were the races in the 27th district, where Sen. Matt Wylie of Elgin was slightly behind John Homan of Cedar Rapids; and in the 35th, where Sen. M. M. Forrester of Anselmo was just behind former Sen. Dwain Williams of Broken Bow.

12 Solons Faced No Opposition

By The Associated Press

Twelve state senators and a member of the State Board of Education were assured of election without opposition as Nebraska voters went to the polls Tuesday.

The board of education member is Frank C. Heinisch of Omaha, member of the board in the Second District.

State Senators re-elected without opposition are: William B. Brandt, Unadilla, 2nd district; William R. Skarda, Jr., Omaha, 7th district; J. W. Burbach, Crofton, 14th district; Harold B. Stryker, Rising City, 17th district; Marvin E. Stromer, Lincoln, 19th district; J. O. Peck, Columbus, 26th district; Frank Nelson, O'Neill, 28th district; Richard D. Marvel, Hastings, 31st district; Don Thompson McCook, 33rd district; Albert A. Kjar, Lexington, 36th district; Elvin Adamson, Cody, 40th district; George C. Gehrdes, Alliance, 41st district.

With a quarter of the state counted in his contest with George Cabot Lodge, the Republican candidate, Kennedy had a lead of better than 125,000.

If that trend continues, his final margin could equal President John F. Kennedy's record 51,000 home state presidential margin of two years ago.

The Massachusetts voters reelected two veteran members of the U.S. House, Democratic Speaker John W. McCormack, without opposition, and Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., R, who had a contest.

Martin began his House service in 1924. McCormack went to the House 36 years ago.

If that trend continues, his final margin could equal President John F. Kennedy's record 51,000 home state presidential margin of two years ago.

The Massachusetts voters reelected two veteran members of the U.S. House, Democratic Speaker John W. McCormack, without opposition, and Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., R, who had a contest.

Martin began his House service in 1924. McCormack went to the House 36 years ago.

Republicans got their first race in his home state, defeating Rep. Horace Seely-Brown, Jr.

Two stalwart Republican Senators, Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois and Homer Capehart of Indiana, were behind in their attempts to be re-elected, but were counting on GOP strongholds still out to pull them through.

No Such Luck

No such luck for Alexander R. Wiley of Wisconsin, who has been a Senator longer than any other Republican. Now 78 and occasionally short tempered, Wiley was trounced by 46-year-old Gaylord A. Nelson, who is winding up his second two-year term as governor.

Brother Wins

And then Rogers C. B. Morton, 48-year-old, 6 foot 6 brother of the Kentucky Senator, defeated Democratic Rep. Thomas F. Johnson in a Maryland House race.

Johnson was indicted 3 weeks ago on conspiracy and conflict of interest charges.

He was accused of taking money to intercede with Justice Department officials in a mail-fraud case.

Among the Dixie Democrats re-elected early was Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, who was in the eye of the 1957 hurricane over school desegregation in Little Rock. Faubus' Republican foe, Willis Ricketts, a Fayetteville druggist, could not find a victory prescription.

Symbolic

It was almost symbolic that one of the first victories reported was Morton's, and once again a President's attempt to win and influence votes for others was thwarted.

This was the outlook in Congress:

Senate: Democrats quickly racked up a clear-cut majority of 51 in the new Senate and pushed on toward upping their present 64-36 edge over the GOP.

They were running strongly in parts of the West and Midwest. They had toppled Republicans from Senate seats in Connecticut, Maryland, New Hampshire and Wisconsin while losing only one Democratic seat to the GOP, in Colorado.

Significant

House: One of the first significant results gave the Republicans an upset victory in Kentucky, and more were in the marking. But the GOP apparently was doomed to pull up considerably short of the goal of a 44-seat gain that would give them control of the House.

They had scored 6 gains to two for the Democrats — a net of 3. Republicans were leading in 34 races still in doubt, including 6 in present Democratic districts.

Democrats were leading in 24 other unsettled races, 6 of them in Republican territory.

Governors: Republicans were making their most significant advances here, by victories in big states rather than in the number of states.

Standoff

All told it was a numerical standoff of 4 gains each party.

Although Rockefeller won without working up a political sweat, one question remained unanswered as the night wore on: would he roll up the whacking majority his backers hoped for?

Maryland had good news for the Democrats. Daniel B. Brewster won the Senate seat vacant by retiring Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler. And Gov. J. Millard Tawes (D) managed to hang on to his seat despite a spirited challenge by Frank Small.

Down in Texas, where Republicans have been making increasingly menacing gestures, John Connelly, who was Kennedy's first secretary of Navy, managed to turn back Jack Cox a staunch GOP conservative.

It was a big day for the Mortons of Kentucky—and or Maryland.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton fended off Democratic challenger Wilson W. Wyatt and got himself another term.

Life Can Be Exciting

By WILLIAM DUBLER

Judging from the political scene, one can conclude only that the American people like doing things at the last minute, sort of on the spur of the moment. How else could you explain the barrage of campaigning that takes place right up to and even through election day? Every time an election is over, there are those who sit back and wonder why we don't change certain things about it and today is no exception.

The time between the primary and general election is far too great, submitting people to the blasts of politicians for months when even a few weeks would be ample time.

Time Between Elections

The longer period of time is what permits the candidates to get off on wild goose chases and engage in all sorts of personal feuds. If they had only three or four weeks in which to campaign, they would have to get right down to facts and stay there if they hoped to convince the electorate of their merit. With so many people making up their minds at the last minute, anyway, the long time between elections is largely wasted.

But then, it does make life exciting to draw the campaign out. Another mark of all elections is the supreme confidence of all the candidates. All of them work with a fever to get out the vote, each believing that the more people turn out at the polls, the better their chances will be. The majority party needs a big vote to take advantage of their built-in numerical superiority and the minority party needs a big vote to cut into the numbers advantage of the majority group.

Actually, what both candidates usually want is for their party's voters to turn out and the voters of the other party to stay at home. This would be a nice trick if it could be accomplished but it is a hard thing for candidates to control. Strangely, people will generally decide for themselves whether to vote. If a candidate gets one group of people excited one way, he will usually excite the other group in a different way. For each voter he gets excited in his behalf, he gets one excited against him.

There isn't much doubt that people are easily excited these days. A big subject before the City Council, once again, is the matter of sidewalks in a southeast section of Lincoln. Part of the neighborhood wants sidewalks while part of it doesn't and you can bet your bottom dollar that this will be a neighborhood thorn for quite a long time. It is a pretty sad fact to see people so worked up over the matter of a sidewalk. One encouraging thing about it is that if sidewalks can stir up such a fuss, our people must be

Useful Service

For a year, now, the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads has been experimenting with an innovation—one that may hold better answers for the worrisome problem of traffic fatalities.

The innovation is the National Driver Register Service—an arrangement for receiving from all of the states their list of license revocations connected with drunkenness or fatal auto accidents. The first year's harvest amounted to 225,000 revocations. That plus the installation of rapid fire machines which can the list places the service in a position to provide quick information to states issuing drivers licenses.

There has been a rising question whether the states separately can cope with the problem of highway safety. A license might be revoked in one state only pretty well off. Probably we should be thankful that sidewalks can be such a controversial matter. After all, we could be worrying about where the next meal was coming from and then we would have something to excite us.

We don't know why the city ever let subdivisions get started without sidewalks in the first place. We are a very mobile society, which is probably a mistake, but we still have a lot of people who walk now and then. The people are generally little ones but that is all the more reason for having sidewalks. The installation of sidewalks will stir up debate because it constitutes a change in the way people have come to expect things. A home-owner gets his lot fixed up the way he likes it without sidewalks and then in comes the city and orders everything torn up.

If people were honest with themselves, they would probably admit that it is the disruption of the thing more than the sidewalks themselves which are the cause of the trouble. After all, what real difference can a sidewalk make? It might even be argued that sidewalks are more appealing, give a more finished look to things, than a lot running directly to the curb line.

It is our opinion that people have a pretty difficult time arguing against sidewalks as there just isn't much of any valid reason to oppose them. Once a sidewalk is in and people have come to live with it, they hardly realize that it is there. The worst thing about it that we can see is that it is supposed to be kept clear of snow in the wintertime and that means more shoveling.

In contrast to such things as worries over sidewalks is the story that appeared this week in the news about the family with 14 children who pulled into Miami, Fla., in their car, the father without any job. In a picture, the group did not look at all concerned and they will no doubt find fortune smiling on them soon in some way or another. But that, it seems, would be a matter to cause no little concern. It would be bad enough being without a job even if you had no family but with a wife and 14 other hungry mouths to feed, unemployment would certainly loom as a terrible disaster.

The only thing the story failed to mention was where the family came from. Next to being unemployed, the most trying thing might well have been a trip by 16 people in a regular automobile, not even a station wagon. Try a trip such as that on for size and the sidewalk question fades into oblivion pretty fast. Yet, 15 members of the family were in the picture, only the father missing, and each one wore a big smile.

to have the driver show up in another state and experience no difficulty in getting back under the wheel. Now the establishment of a central information agency makes a national menace out of a local one and by that much serves the cause of general safety.

Thus far the success of the service has impressed Congress, and future legislation is expected to expand it to cover the full range of dangerous driving.

Some may object to the intrusion of federal authority. But a glance at the highway safety record would convince the majority that federal licensing requirements, uniform traffic laws and a reliable reporting service still leaves enforcement in the hands of the states and greatly strengthens such hands. The seriousness of the problem would seem to offset the application of centralized authority.

This week the American people will have a chance to show equal people-to-people friendship when the Russian Constant re-examination of our foreign aid program is in order but this aid can be wasted in more ways than one. It is wasted, of course, when it is poured into profit-making ventures of little benefit to the great mass of people and when it serves more than anything else to bolster a government that might otherwise collapse from lack of widespread public support.

But such aid can be a failure, too, when it wins for us nothing but the animosity of those who receive it. Foreign aid is as much an exercise in human understanding as it is in economics and politics. There is an art to giving, even on the impersonal level of one government to another. When the recipient of such aid is humbled as an intended or even accidental prerequisite of the grant agreement, then the aid would better not be given at all.

People To People Works With Russ

WASHINGTON—One of the amazing but healthy facts about U.S.-Russian relations is that at the very height of the Cuban crisis when the world anxiously waited to see whether U.S. naval vessels would shoot down Russian ships on the high seas, the Russian people gave the New York City ballet the greatest ovation ever given in Moscow's Bolshoi theatre.

They stood and cheered for 20 minutes — this for an American ballet which brought to the Soviets the type of dance in which the Russians, both under the czars and the communists, have led the world. Apparently they thought the New York City ballet had done a superb job in a field in which the Russians were supposed to be supreme.

Apparently also they considered people-to-people friendship more important than the fact that the President of the United States had given their Premier Khrushchev an ultimatum and the two countries might be on the verge of war.

The U.S. men's all-stars will be directed by O'mara "Bud" Browning, coach of the Phillips 66 Oilers and Les Lane, coach of the Denver D-C Trucers.

The Harlem Globetrotters played to terrific crowds in Moscow in the summer of 1959 and an all-star team went to Russia in 1961 under the direction of Coach John McLendon of the AAU champion Cleveland Pipers. But this is the first time a Russian basketball team has toured the USA. Coming as it does, on the heels of the Cuban crisis, its welcome will be a real test of American sportsmanship.

Gruenthal Sick, Deprives Kennedy Of Needed Advice

WASHINGTON—It is sad to note that while the Red Cross international committee moves toward center stage in the Cuban inspection crisis, the president of our own American Red Cross lies gravely ill in Walter Reed army hospital.

General Alfred M. Gruenthal, who served as General Eisenhower's chief-of-staff at NATO headquarters and subsequently moved to the top NATO command, could unquestionably wise counsel for the President at this sensitive juncture in history.

Gruenthal's close friend, Ike, considers him the most brilliant military strategist living today. Thanks to his wide experience with the American Red Cross these past five years, he seems to be in a unique position to assess whether international Red Cross inspection can safely be substituted for the United Nations surveillance which Kennedy at first demanded.

House cats come in all sizes and colors and are not bothered by racial problems. They solved desegregation long ago, live unplanned lives and refrain from war. No one ever heard of German cats, for instance, conspiring against French cats. In those respects they are far ahead of people whose function seems to be to create problems rather than to solve them.

Cats seldom adore people, but consider them useful. One can be a master of a dog but never of a cat. Perhaps that is why people cater to cats. People are born servants. They live by doing each other's washing. Did you ever try to get a cat to do your washing? It must be that people exalt cats because people would like to be sovereign too, and the cat has got it made.

Unfortunately Gruenthal has been hospitalized since late September. Doctors, on discovering an emolism in his stomach, performed an emergency operation at midnight to tie off blood vessels leading to the lungs. Golfer Ben Hogan is among the few others who have undergone this radical new type of surgery.

Until two weeks ago Gruenthal was being fed intravenously, but now is eating regularly, and is able to sit up. Permitted only

Patchwork Prairie Country

Waking up to the sounds of the city is quite different from listening for the early morning sounds of the country. I had occasion to spend a night in Lincoln, so decided to enjoy the sights and sounds about me.

First of all, I was going to have a morning of relaxing slumber such as I dream about in mid-summer when our day begins with the rising of the sun. So what happened? I awakened at six o'clock. All was quiet — just ideal for turning over and going back to sleep. Sleep would not come but I did enjoy the luxury of staying in bed until I decided I should look down from my fourth floor window to see how other people go to work.

Below was a construction company, with full crew at work, excavating for a new building. At least I decided it must be for a new building. Caterpillars were busy crawling back and forth across the ground while the blade in front moved the dirt as some child's toy moves a mound of sand in a sandpile. Dump trucks moved in to haul the dirt away and they too looked small and toylike. A dirt digger with huge jaws and jagged teeth opening wide bit into the earth and gnawed hungrily. There was a mixture of noises — the roar of motors and jack hammers — the shouts of men and grinding wheels.

Lad Breaks Arm Trying To Be On Time To School

A little boy, who was trying to keep from being counted "tardy" in his schoolroom, fell from a big slippery-slide and broke his arm Tuesday.

Matthew Joy, an 8-year-old 3rd grader at Sheridan School, was taken to Bryan Memorial Hospital by his mother, Mrs. George Joy, of 2619 Winthrop Road, after Mrs. Quentin Q. Quay, a volunteer nurse at the school, diagnosed the fracture.

"He heard the last bell ring," explained Mrs. Joy "and thought it would be quicker to jump from the slide than to slide down it."

Matthew's explanation was simply, "I was in a hurry and fell."

Matthew was taken into surgery late Tuesday afternoon to have his broken bones reset so they will be able to heal properly.

Following the operation, officials at the hospital said he was in satisfactory condition.

Halsey Forest Flames Halted Short Of Trees

Halsey (P)—A range fire burned over a span about 5 miles long and an average of two miles wide in the Broken Bow area Tuesday afternoon. All of the area swept by the flames was range land and no property damage was reported.

Fire rigs from a half dozen Custer County towns and an estimated 1,000 men fought the flames for about 3½ hours before the fire was brought under control along Highway 21 running south from Broken Bow.

At its widest point the fire was estimated at a spread of 3 miles.

The fire apparently started when burning material at the Broken Bow city dump a mile west of town was blown across a road onto the range land. The flames then swept along in a southeasterly direction.

No estimate could be made of acres burned over. It was reported the fire burned over about 3 miles at its widest point.

No dwellings or other buildings were in the path of the flames, Meines said.

All fire-fighting equipment and every man available from a wide area of the rugged Sandhills country were called to the scene. Fire departments responded from several towns.

Meines said a controlled backfire finally brought the flames to a halt.

Four men were burned in fighting the blaze. They were Gene Lynch, William Roe, Clark Wilson and Lawrence Pearson of Thedford. They were injured when 8 men and the Thedford fire truck were caught in a fire pocket.

UAR, Saudi Arabia Break Diplomatic Relations

Damascus, Syria (P) — Saudi Arabia charged Tuesday the United Arab Republic opened an air and sea bombardment of two villages near the vital Saudi Red Sea port of Qizan. Saudi Premier Prince Faisal announced diplomatic relations have been broken with Cairo.

The breach carried the Arab kingdom one step closer to open armed conflict with President Nasser's U.A.R. over the revolution in Yemen, where a Nasser-supported revolution toppled the monarchy in September.

Backed by Nasser's planes, tanks and men, Yemeni revolutionary President Abdullah Sallal said in a statement quoted by the semi-official U.A.R. Middle East News Agency that his government has decided to seize Qizan and Najran, a border town 150 miles inland from the port.

Forces Move

Prince Faisal announced his armed forces are moving to the attacked border. He said so far the bombardment has not been accompanied by troop landings.

In an attempt to head off the peril of an inter-Arab shooting war over Yemen, President Nazam El Kudsi of Syria called for pan-Arab mediation by kings and other heads of state of Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Libya, Sudan, Lebanon and Iraq.

In a television address, Kudsi urged the 7 Arab chiefs to "carry out speedy consultations among them to mediate for the halt of bloodshed in Yemen."

Not Involved

None of the 7 is directly involved in the Yemeni dispute pitting Nasser against King Saud of Saudi Arabia and King Hussein of Jordan, who also backs Yemen's fallen monarchy.

A Saudi communiqué broadcast by Mecca Radio said U.A.R. planes and 3 naval units began bombing two villages near Qizan at noon Monday and reported the firing was continuing. It claimed "great fatal casualties and property losses" in the villages of Al Muswassem and Khalaf. Faisal said the attacking naval units are destroyers.

The Saudi government reserves its absolute right to take whatever measures are necessary to defend the country against this overt aggression," the communiqué said.

SOVIET'S CUBAN CRISIS TONE MORE MODERATE

...Hint Of New Approach To Berlin Problem

Moscow (P) — The Soviet government struck a conciliatory note Tuesday night on the Cuban crisis, and put out a vague hint of willingness to examine a new approach to the dangerous West Berlin problem.

A keynote speech, on the eve of the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, also carried an implied rebuttal to communist Chinese displeasure with the Soviet backdown in the Cuban blockade confrontation.

First Deputy Premier Alexei Kosygin, (pronounced Kaws-Ee-Gin) making the important speech in the Kremlin auditorium for the anniversary celebration, most important event of the Communist Party's year, referred several times to "concessions" by both sides in the Cuban crisis.

No Saber-Rattling

While Kosygin employed the usual stock phrases to denounce U.S. "imperialism," the speech was notably lacking in saber-rattling. While Premier Khrushchev listened from his seat on the dais, the speaker used words like "compromise" in describing the Soviet leader's policy.

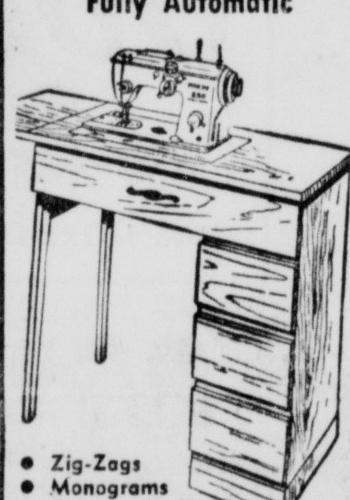

Discussing Berlin, Kosygin failed to put forward the usual Soviet threat of signing a peace treaty separately with communist East Germany. The Kremlin has claimed such an act would automatically cancel allied rights in West Berlin.

The speaker said signing a peace treaty with Germany would be the best solution for the Berlin problem, but he avoided demanding this under the threat of the separate pact with East Germany. In Moscow this was viewed as an important change of tone, perhaps outlining a new approach to the German question.

In Washington there was no immediate comment from State Department officials.

Whatever oil-change interval is recommended for your car
—this is the best engine life insurance you can buy, and at no extra cost!

Manufacturers of 1962 and 1963 model cars recommend as many as 4,000 to 6,000 miles between oil changes. This is a grueling test for even the best motor oils. And it's a test that Conoco All-Season Super Motor Oil has passed...on the road...with flying colors.

What does this mean if you own a pre-1962 car? Simply this. Now you can go the maximum number of miles between oil changes recommended for your own car by its manufacturer, with complete safety. In summer. In winter. In slow-moving traffic or at high turnpike speeds hour after hour.

New Conoco All-Season Super Motor Oil has just been improved for the 5th time in recent years. The combination of these major improvements add up to the best life insurance money can buy for an engine. Yet you pay not one penny more...it's another value from your Conoco dealer, a friendly neighbor you can count on.

U.S. Tells Russia Feud With Fidel 'No Excuse'

Washington (UPI)—The United States has told the Russians they cannot use troubles with Fidel Castro as an excuse for not carrying out Premier Khrushchev's pledge to remove offensive weapons from Cuba under international inspection.

The Soviets in turn have passed word that Khrushchev's promise still stands. But they have pointed to the difficulties posed by Castro, the Cuban prime minister.

This was described by authoritative sources Tuesday as the essence of the secret U.S.-Soviet talks being carried on in New York while the United States maintains diplomatic and military pressure for a Cuban settlement.

Talking

Soviet Deputy Premier Anatoly Mikoyan has been in Havana since last weekend talking to Castro. Castro has issued a variety of demands and opposes any foreign check within Cuba on withdrawing the weapons—nuclear capable missiles and bombers.

A lid of secrecy in Washington at the White House, the State Department and the Pentagon hid developments in the continuing crisis.

"No comment" was the official reply to inquiries on the progress of diplomatic negotiations and of the weapons withdrawal.

Uncrated

Informants said U.S. reconnaissance photos showed late last week that Russian IL28 jet bombers were still being uncaged in Cuba. The U.S. estimates as to their number rose slightly, from about 24 to several more.

Khrushchev's special representative in New York, Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov then was warned that Kennedy included the bombers as well as the missiles among the offensive weapons he wants pulled out of Cuba. And some more recent aerial pictures were said to have indicated the assembly of the bombers was not going forward.

The Pentagon refused Tuesday, however, to say whether the latest surveillance shows whether the Soviets have started to retrace the IL28s. It has said nothing about the weapons situation in Cuba since last weekend's announcement of evidence that the missiles were being dismantled.

Prevention

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester would say only that the U.S. naval vessels assigned to prevent any U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who have been seeing Kuznetsov, have been keeping on the pressure for fulfillment of the pledge.

The American negotiators were said to have made plain to Kuznetsov that the Khrushchev-Kennedy agreement is between the Soviet Union and the United States, and that if Castro causes difficulties in carrying out the Russian part of the bargain that is the Kremlin's problem, not Washington's.

Wesleyan Seniors

Pick Bruce Smith

Bruce Smith of Syracuse has been elected president of the senior class at Wesleyan University.

Presidents for the other classes are Darwin Blue, Shelton, junior; Kent Haraf, Sheridan, Wyo., sophomore, and Ron Blank, Rosalie, freshman.

Other officers for the senior class are John Green, Wauwata, secretary-treasurer, Ed Stevens, Lincoln, chaplain, and Tom Cunningham, Doniphon, orator.

Official's Son

Bullet Victim

New York (UPI)—The 22-year-old adopted son of federal housing director Robert Weaver fatally shot himself Tuesday night when he playfully put what he thought was an unloaded pistol to his temple and pulled the trigger.

Robert Weaver Jr., a Negro, died in Mother Cabrini Hospital some 3 hours after the shooting.

Increased fall shopping also boosted retail trade employment by 250 jobholders.

The level of nonagricultural wage and salary jobs was 1,650 above the September 1961 figure and the job total was 750 above last year, but a labor-management dispute during September 1961 distorted the year-to-year comparison, said Lester S. Kafka, manager of the Lincoln office of the Division of Employment.

BUSINESSES

More than 20 passenger department salesmen of the Burlington Railroad will hit the business district Wednesday with what was described as a "blitz" by R. W. Palme, an employee of the Burlington's Lincoln station.

The salesmen, dressed in red uniform jackets, will each be assigned certain business blocks and will call on as many business men as possible to tell them of Burlington passenger services.

"We want them to know we're still in the passenger-carrying business," said Palme.

more offensive weapons from reaching Cuba are on station, and that the U.S. aerial surveillance is continuing.

In an Oct. 27-28 Kennedy-Khrushchev exchange of letters, which forms the basis for the proposed Cuba settlement, Khrushchev promised removal of the weapons "which you describe as offensive" and agreed to U.N. verification of the dismantling.

U.S. informants said the special U.S. representative in New York on the Cuban dispute, John J. McCloy, and U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who have been seeing Kuznetsov, have been keeping on the pressure for fulfillment of the pledge.

The American negotiators were said to have made plain to Kuznetsov that the Khrushchev-Kennedy agreement is between the Soviet Union and the United States, and that if Castro causes difficulties in carrying out the Russian part of the bargain that is the Kremlin's problem, not Washington's.

"Concentrate on finances and property matters today. Be sure you have a good, workable budget set up."

That is my horoscope for today, courtesy of the morning journal. That is one reason I take two papers. If I do not like the horoscope in one, I can look at the other. Make a reasonable choice.

This is a good enough forecast. I will keep this one.

I can concentrate on finances. But have difficulty setting up a good, workable budget. I set up budgets as a hobby. Like a Meccano set. They don't really work, but are fun to play with.

Once I read an article in the Ladies' Home Journal about budgets.

This is a helpful household magazine — it concentrates mostly on how the Little Woman saved her husband's job. With cake mix and womanly intuition.

It has articles on how many husbands have beaten their wives. (4 out of 5.) And they advise the wife how to treat him. (Reason with him.)

But once in a while, they come through with something reasonable (there is nothing reasonable in reasoning with a person who is belting you for a goal) — like budgets.

"Get a set of 10 baking-powder tins and label them with regular household expenses: Food, clothing, rent, entertainment, etc."

The toughest part of this budget was getting the baking-powder tins. But we baked like crazy and even made our own pancakes. I was stumped with baking powder which has a tendency to fire back at you. But I was determined.

I got these baking-powder tins and labeled them. The Journal told you how to make the labels with a sticking plaster which I cannot mention because the company lawyer writes such weepy letters about it.

The idea (said the Journal) was to cash the old paycheck. You got the glue in small bills. You tucked a certain number into each can.

Well, let me tell you this was a shambles!

If you get cash money in the house — even in a safe — everybody dips into it.

I had a can labeled "Emergencies."

Emergencies went first. In a household like mine, every day is an emergency. And I don't think the emergency can last through the first day.

Naturally, after that we dipped other cans. For other emergencies.

"Doctor Bills" went to pay the tailight I broke backing into a parking space. "Entertainment" went right away for entertainment.

If you have a can for entertainment, entertain yourself.

We saw a lot of movies and ate a lot of popcorn.

That should have saved on "Food." But we were charging at the grocery anyway.

So what really happened out of this baking-powder-can budget was I had to go down and stiff the banker for a loan.

There wasn't a dime in any baking-powder tin. The budget was all shot to pieces.

Nowadays, I have a Money Man for budgeting. I don't know whether he does it with baking-powder tins or what. He won't even let me lay hands on my own checkbook. Even in emergencies.

Taking a break during one of their planning sessions are Mrs. Larry Shafer, Master Tommy Hannegan and Mrs. Robert Hannegan, Mrs. Hall, and Mrs. Ed Schwartzkopf, ticket chairman.

Why Grow Old?

Answers To Questions
Josephine Lowman

The following are answers to questions concerning hair which come over my desk again and again.

1. What can I do about dandruff?

A certain amount of scaling is natural, and at some seasons and in some circumstances, it increases. Dandruff is simply the sloughing off of dead cells. Massage your scalp daily and use one of the shampoos which is especially designed for this condition.

You should shampoo your hair often. If this condition is severe, or continues, see your family physician. If he feels you need specialized treatment, he will suggest a dermatologist. Also, there are splendid tonics for dandruff.

If you are going in for a real dye job, and make a

HIDE THE GRAY

2. More and more women are interested in hair coloring. Some wish to hide gray hair. Others simply want more highlights or wish to change the shade of their hair slightly.

For women who are going to do any of these at home, the temporary rinses are best. These are even good if you have the work done at a salon.

They are best because you can experiment with them. They fade out after a few shampoos and some wash out with the first shampoo. They are very successful in coloring and blending gray hair if you do not have too much gray.

If you are going in for a real dye job, and make a drastic change such as from black to blonde, in my opinion, you would be wise to seek expert help at a good salon.

WIGS POPULAR

3. Questions about wigs are numerous these days. Wigs are fun for those who can afford them. They are practical and most helpful for the woman who has fine unmanageable hair, especially when she is on a trip and cannot have her hair combed or set for a gay evening after being windblown, rained on, or her coiffure has been ruined by a swim.

Also, extra hair pieces (it doesn't have to be a complete wig) are wonderful for changing your hairstyle or for the woman who has thinning hair on top of her head.

Opening lead — seven of spades.

This hand created a mild hullabaloo when it was first published many years ago. South gets to three notrump and the question is whether or not he can make it, assuming the best play by both sides. West leads the seven of spades.

Would you place your money on North-South, or would you rather back East-West in the battle? There's only one right answer, with everyone playing perfectly, but it's not easy to see.

East plays the queen of spades on the opening lead and declarer has a problem of whether or not to win with the king. Note what happens if he takes the queen. He has no way of winning nine tricks without attacking hearts, but as soon as he does, East takes the ace, returns a spade, and down goes the contract.

So let's assume that declarer ducks the queen of spades, as well he might even without seeing the adverse cards, and that East returns a spade. South plays the jack and West takes it with the ace.

It would appear to be useless for West to lead another spade, even though it establishes his long suit, because he has no entry card with which to get in to cash the spades. But he leads the third spade anyhow, and on it East discards the ace of hearts!

This play is just what the doctor ordered. South may sweat and strain and beat his brain, but he simply can't make the hand regardless of what he does. He is done in by East's unusual discard.

If East makes any discard other than the ace of hearts, South makes three notrump. Maybe a good case can be made for East to throw the ace of hearts without knowing the adverse cards — it is not as farfetched as it seems — but it is unlikely that many players would do it. People just don't run around tossing aces helter-skelter, which is rather a pity when a fine opportunity like this comes up.

VISITORS IN SUBURBIA NEWS

COTNER TERRACE

News from Cotner Terrace again is concerned with visitors — visitors in the neighborhood, and neighbors visiting away from Lincoln.

From Connellsburg, Pa., has come Mrs. Orval Ritenour, who will return to her home today after a week's visit in Cotner Terrace. Mrs. Ritenour has been a combination houseguest and babysitter at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Ritenour, during her Lincoln visit. She arrived last week to look after her grandchildren, three-month-old Michael Ron and two-year-old Mark, during her daughter-in-law's short convalescence in the hospital.

Mrs. Ritenour returned from her hospital visit early this week and resumed the role of entertaining her mother-in-law. Incidentally, we understand this is the first time that Mrs. Ritenour has seen her three-month-old grandson — we'd bet she didn't mind the few days of babysitting at all!

And Cotner Terrace residents who did some visiting of their own last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Hubbard and the Rev. and Mrs. Forrest Morningstar.

On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard drove to Omaha, where they were the weekend guests of Mrs. Hubbard's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hersh and Lori, Dianne, and Danny.

A special reason for the trip was young Miss Dianne, who was celebrating her third birthday last weekend.

On Sunday, the occasion was properly marked with a family dinner for Dianne, her parents, sister and brother, and grandparents.

The Rev. and Mrs. Morningstar journeyed to Royal last Sunday, to be guests for the day of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Elsberry. Accompanying them were their parents, sister and brother, and grandparents.

More news from the neighborhood concerns two parties. One was held last Sunday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. Andre Swiger, who entertained a group of their neighbors at an evening of bridge and a midnight lasagne supper.

Guests for the evening included Dr. and Mrs. Loren Bonneau, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Winders, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Damon, Maj. and Mrs. Robert Culwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tethenow.

Another party was held last night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. Andre Swiger. Dr. Swiger, however, was the only host, as he entertained several of his friends at an election night party. We understand the men played a few hands of cards as they listened to the election returns.

FIENE HEIGHTS

There was a birthday celebrated in Fiene Heights last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sackett. A party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Sackett's daughter, Diane, who was celebrating her sixth birthday.

Sharing the traditional festivities of the day, birthday cakes and games, were eleven of Diane's school chums and neighborhood friends. The guest list included Terri Krivoshia, Michael Howard, Jan Nuernberger, Cathy Lowe, Sandra Luedke, Debra Scheidt, Denise Scheidt, Cindy Watkins, Michael Wittrock, Richard Wittrock, and Robin Zimmerman.

Fiene Heights residents also have some new neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Simon now are settled in their new home at 2327 Kessler after moving to the neighborhood on Oct. 15. Mr. and Mrs. Simon formerly resided at 3732 D St.

Shortage In Gresham Bank Reaches $504,133

... Examiners Complete Examination Of Checks

Ralph Misko, state banking department director, said late Tuesday that the amount of the insufficient funds checks written at the Gresham State Bank totaled $504,133.

Misko announced the figure after his examiners had completed a check of the 14,527 checks.

This is $36,133 more than the $468,000 bank Vice President Harry I. Hylton reported was short when he signed a statement in Misko's Lincoln office, admitting he and the late cashier of the bank, Arthur Walford, were responsible for the shortage.

Of the aggregate total, $353,223 worth of the checks were written prior to Jan. 1, 1958, Misko said, and $150,910 after that date.

Misko said the checks date back to beyond 1931 when the Gresham State Bank merged with the First National Bank of Gresham.

Misko has called for a meeting of the bank's stockholders at the McCloud Hotel in York. It is the second stockholders Though unable to get out and campaign, Iannello polled 1,343 votes in the September primary, easily defeating 10 fellow Democrats. He had no opposition in Tuesday's election.

Iannello, a contractor, was convicted of taking money from the state for work that was never done.

In the latest election, 102 more voters appeared at the polls than at the spring balloting when a tie vote was recorded. S. D. Ocker serves as head of the Diller schools.

Investigating officers said Jennings was riding west on his motorcycle with the red lights on, heading for a burglar alarm at the First National Bank and Trust Co., 13th and L, when the accident occurred. The alarm was later found to be false.

He passed one vehicle just west of 19th and O, switched on his bright light and saw a man in front of him in the middle of the street, police said.

Jennings then swerved left of the center line to avoid the man, and in order to return to the proper lane, was going to swing around a westbound car driven by Florence L. Cornell, 60, of 601 So. 46th, when she signaled for a left turn at 18th and was in collision with his motorcycle. He was thrown to the pavement and the motorcycle veered off into a curb.

Doctor Witness Tells Jurors Death Caused By Drowning

Dr. Harlan Papenfuss, pathologist who performed the autopsy on the body of Barbara Eastman, testified Tuesday in the Dennis O'Kelly murder trial that the "terminal event" or cause of Miss Eastman's death was drowning.

The physician, a witness for the state, further testified that "severe blows" on the head of Miss Eastman caused "softening of the temporal lobes and the stem of the brain" which probably would have resulted in death.

In his opinion, he said, the head lacerations, one of which was approximately 5 inches long and exposed the bone of the head, were inflicted by a "broad surface" object which had a "moderately straight margin."

O'Kelly, charged with second-degree murder in connection with the Aug. 4 death of Miss Eastman, showed no emotion throughout testimony during the second day of trial Tuesday.

Dr. Papenfuss further testified that Miss Eastman suffered other abrasions and bruises about the face, neck and shoulders and a fractured jaw bone and skull.

Walton School Head Quits, Cites Disunity

Walton — Disunity in the Walton School District led Supt. Charles E. Hasty to quit his position, it was revealed Tuesday evening.

His brief letter of resignation, handed the school board at its regular meeting Monday night, read:

"Because of tensions in the district, caused by the division over whether the school would continue, things are not congenial enough to stay here. I resign my position . . . as of now."

Hasty taught history and algebra in addition to his superintendency.

Temporarily replacing him will be chemistry teacher Robert Malone, according to Lewis Colley, president of the school board.

Special Meeting?

Cooley declared the board may hold a special meeting later this month to consider hiring a new superintendent "if the need arises." Next regular board meeting is Dec. 3.

Malone, whom Cooley called "qualified" to head the school, was hired approximately two weeks ago to accommodate students who wanted to study chemistry.

Including him, there are 3 full-time teachers at Walton, plus a part-time music instructor. The school has 22 students, Cooley said, including 4 boys.

Split Continues

He acknowledged that the split on the board and among district taxpayers continues over whether the school should be kept as it is or merged with another district.

Contracting with other high schools has been mentioned. Last summer the board split 3-3 on a petition from 70% of the parents of Walton's high-school-age children who wanted to investigate contracting with Lincoln.

The school's backers still have a case pending in court

PAIN RELIEVER

On cross-examination, defense attorney Richard Vestecka asked Dr. Papenfuss if the injuries might have been received in a fall.

The physician indicated that many of them could have been but that the laceration on the left side of the face was "relatively high, and it's difficult to visualize that it was caused by falling."

Dr. Papenfuss told the court that he determined death to have occurred at least 6 hours prior to his seeing the body at approximately 3:45 p.m. Aug. 4, and at least 4 hours after Miss Eastman had eaten her last meal.

Deaths Of Finding Body

Clyde Mentzer of 1309 So. 33rd testified that he and his family were trying out new boating and skiing equipment when they noticed the body in Oak Lake Aug. 4.

Duane Freburg, park policeman who covers the Oak Lake area, told the court that he and Mentzer pulled the body, later identified as that of Miss Eastman, out of the water.

grapher for the Lincoln Police Department.

In outlining the state's position in opening statements, County Attorney Paul Douglas told the jury of 10 women and two men the case concerns two people — Dennis O'Kelly and Barbara Eastman.

I am sorry to say Barbara Eastman is dead and cannot be here to tell her side of the story; the only one who knows the details is the man who killed her — Dennis O'Kelly," he said.

In opening statements, Vestecka indicated that Miss Eastman was probably killed by "other boyfriends."

He told the jurors the defendant is a "likeable individual" and that psychological and psychiatric tests will show that he "will do what he can to resolve tension."

"He continually seeks to avoid tension by means of a peaceful solution regardless of the effect upon his life," Vestecka said.

The 12 jurors selected to serve in the O'Kelly case are:

Mrs. Isabelle T. Bales, 3345 L.
Mrs. Ellen E. Looker, 6915 Willow
Mrs. Elsie R. Stoll, 2935 So. 25th
Gail E. West, 4731 Adams

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska Land Plugged

Since I'm not able to escape the football season long enough to unlimber my old shotgun, I can't pass judgment on the merits of Nebraska pheasant hunting this fall.

But the Chicago Tribune gave the Cornhusker State a whale of a build up recently, thanks to Outdoor Editor Tom McNally.

"Few states are making as big a pitch as Nebraska for the traveling sportsman's dollar. The state has some fishing, but most of all Nebraska is hunting country—and man, are the state's drum-beaters ever letting the potential tourists know it," McNally wrote.

"... Years ago Nebraska was lagging in attracting non-resident sportsmen, but in recent years the state has been demanding more and more attention from traveling outdoorsmen."

"There are two good reasons why hunters should look to Nebraska. First, the state does have excellent hunting. Secondly, when an area beckons hard to outdoorsmen they are virtually assured they'll be graciously received and treated well."

"For the traveling sportsman, perhaps the ringneck pheasant is Nebraska's greatest attraction. The state has about as many pheasants per square inch as any other area in the country..."

Comment: These are impressive plaudits for Nebraska's efforts to attract the tourist dollar. It seems the tourist promo bureau is doing its job well. My only hope is that Nebraskans welcome the out-of-staters with as much enthusiasm as promised and the pheasants are as thick as the publicity syrup. I'd hate to have 'em visit and go home empty handed, believing we suckered them. Worse than not attracting folks is luring them somewhere and then sending them home mad. On the other hand, the Trib article proves that tourism can be exported and promotion pays off—if you keep your promises, that is.

Jay (Ducky) Holmes of San Antonio, Tex., watched the Nebraska-Missouri game via TV and writes: "It might have looked different from ringside, but down here deep in the heart of Texas it looked like this one the players lost and no one can be blamed but themselves. They reminded me of some days when I really want to play a good game of golf and start pressing. The coaches can do everything but play for them and I think our coaching staff has done a great job."

"For about 35 years I have followed Nebraska's fortunes from Pittsburgh to Hawaii and I have seen some great teams... Willie Paschall is from Jefferson High here in San Antonio and when he gets a little more experience, I'm sure he will be a big help. I think Nebraska will take Kansas Saturday and if they do, I will see you in Norman, Okla."

Comment: Here's hoping Ducky makes it to Norman. E. T. Stiel of Lincoln writes to complain about coverage of injured Northeast football player Ray Nielsen: "Perhaps you were not aware of his condition, or could it be you did not consider this newsworthy?"

Comment: Like most folks, newsmen hate to see anybody suffer injury, so I'll ignore the inference of 'heartlessness.' Rocket Nielsen suffered a neck injury, which was reported at the time, and is still hospitalized. Last weekend he was crowned King of Hearts by his feminine school mates, a fine honor for a deserving youngster. This corner—and everyone else—wishes him a speedy recovery.

Waterfield Resigns As Coach Of Rams

... SVARE GETS POST

Los Angeles (AP) — Bob Waterfield resigned Tuesday as head coach of the oft-losing Los Angeles Rams.

Waterfield, longtime star quarterback of the club but unable to win as a coach, said in a statement:

"I met at noon with (general manager) Elroy Hirsch. After much thought I have decided to resign..."

"I think it will be best for all concerned under the circumstances. I want to wish the ball club and the staff the best for the remainder of the season."

Hirsch announced that line coach Harland Svare will take over as interim head coach.

Hirsch said of Waterfield, his longtime teammate with the Rams, "He is a wonderful personal friend and a fine

Nebraska Prep Ratings

Overall class rankings of high school football teams, based on season's performances.

By Conde Sargent

Final ratings in all classes will appear next week. Playoffs or regularly scheduled games this week involve rated teams in all classes.

Eight-Man

- 1—Hayes Center (8-0)*
- 2—Loomis (8-0)*
- 3—Fairmont (9-0)*
- 4—Western (9-0)*
- 5—Dorchester (8-1)*

* Season completed.

Comment—Ceresco's playoff game with Mead this weekend is all that keeps this from final alignment. Hayes Center will get the championship.

Challengers—Elba, Odell, Stella, Wallace, Walthill.

FAIMAN BREAKS LEGQuarterback Is Out For SeasonBy DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Coach Bob Devaney doesn't believe in a lot of scrimmage work during the season and after Tuesday practice he's undoubtedly less enthusiastic about contact work than before.

John Faiman, alternate Nebraska quarterback, suffered a fractured right leg shortly after the start of an offensive scrimmage session against the Husker frosh.

Faiman was skipping the No. 1 unit and was being groomed to carry the load for the Scarletts against Kansas Saturday in case Nebraska's leading gainer, Dennis Claridge, is still hobbled. Claridge suffered a sprained ankle in the last minute of the Missouri game.

Ironically, the Cornhuskers have been plagued with injuries almost every time Devaney and his staff have tried to get in some contact licks.

Tuesday's session, which involved each unit getting about 10 to 15 minutes work, was only the second scrimmage of any size since fall camp. Last week the Huskers had a brief defensive contact drill.

Faiman is the 3rd major casualty of the 1962 campaign. Prior to the season, halfback Maynard Schmidt of Cozad suffered a shoulder separation and was lost for the season. Shortly after that All-Big 8 fullback Bill Thornton was stopped by a dislocated shoulder.

Faiman saw action against Michigan, but has been hobbled by an ankle injury since the Iowa State game. Two other reserves were stopped by injuries. Fullback Mike Koehler missed the season after a head injury and guard Bill Rogers will undergo knee surgery today for repair of an injury suffered several weeks ago.

"We've had some good luck and we've had some bad luck," Devaney said Tuesday night. "I'm real sorry for John's sake. He has worked hard and helped us a lot."

The Husker coach said he hoped to have Claridge available against Kansas, but in case he can't be ready for full duty the quarterbacking chores would rest with sophomore Ron Michka.

There have been rumors drifting north that the Jayhawks may spring some single wing against the Jayhawks this week, a phase of Devaney's multiple offense which hasn't been flashed to date.

"We didn't get a chance to use many of our new surprises against Missouri because of poor field position," Devaney said. "But we hope to have a few new things for Kansas."

Asked about reports from Kansas that the Jayhawks are contemplating a breeze against the Huskers in view of Nebraska's collapse against Missouri, Devaney said:

"I'm confident our boys will have an answer for that Saturday."

There have been rumors drifting north that the Jayhawks may pooh-pooh the Cornhuskers all fall, figuring they'd fold when the tougher portion of the schedule hit.

It's possible some of the Nebraska-is-over-rated feeling in Kansas may have originated with ex-Husker coach Bill Jennings, now backfield coach at Kansas.

Jennings is very familiar with all Nebraska's personnel — one thing that may give a bonus advantage, of course — and it is known that while at Nebraska Jennings felt the Huskers had sub-par material and that his players had numerous weaknesses last year when NU won only 3 games.

"I don't know anything about that," Devaney said Tuesday. "These kids have done a real good job for us and we're proud of them."

The Cornhuskers will fly to Topeka Friday afternoon and work out at Washburn Stadium.

They'll headquartered at the Pick-Kansan Hotel, then bus to Lawrence Saturday morning for the game.

Top 2 AP Teams May Be Foes In Rose Bowl

By Associated Press

If the Rose Bowl football game were to be played today, it could boast of being an unofficial match for the national championship between the No. 1 and No. 2 ranking teams.

Northwestern and Southern California, driving toward a possible clash in Pasadena, are pacesetters in the weekly poll of the Associated Press. Each has won 6 straight games.

Northwestern, which squeezed past Indiana 26-21 on a late passing drive by Tom Myers, retained top place in the standings with 24 of the 49 No. 1 votes of the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters and a total of 442 points.

Alabama and Mississippi, boomed for a meeting in the

No. 3 and No. 4 positions, respectively, after receiving 9 first place votes each. Alabama made Mississippi State its 7th victim of the season 20-0 while Mississippi finally managed to beat Louisiana State, an old rival, 15-7.

Completing the top 10, which underwent a brisk shakeup, were: Texas, No. 5; Arkansas, No. 6; Missouri, No. 7; Wisconsin, No. 8; Louisiana State, No. 9, and Minnesota, No. 10.

East Excluded

Only the East is not represented in the latest standings. The Middle West has 4 teams in the top 10, the Southeast has 3, the Southwest two and the Pacific Coast one.

The Pacific Coast hasn't had a national champion since Southern California won the mythical title in 1939.

Minnesota, in 1960, was the last Big 10 to head the final poll. Alabama won it in 1961.

Missouri, Wisconsin and Minnesota are newcomers to the list, rooting out Michigan State, Washington and Auburn, all of whom were clear the picture quite a bit.

Other teams on the list include Arkansas, Louisiana State, Auburn, Alabama, Mississippi, Duke, Oregon, Maryland, Miami of Florida and Nebraska.

HUSKERS STILL GATOR BOWL POSSIBILITY

Jacksonville, Fla. (UPI)—Georgia Tech, Army and Penn State are high on the list of prospects for the Gator Bowl football game Dec. 29.

And, Boston College is a darkhorse among the 14 teams listed Tuesday by the Gator Bowl Association as receiving close attention of the Selection Committee.

"We expect to know something more definite Saturday night," said General Manager George Olsen. "The results of many Saturday games should clear the picture quite a bit."

Other teams on the list include Arkansas, Louisiana State, Auburn, Alabama, Mississippi, Duke, Oregon and Nebraska.

INJURY SLOWS KU'S COLEMAN

Lawrence, Kan. (UPI)—Fullback Ken Coleman couldn't move at full speed Tuesday because of a hip injury, indicating Kansas will have only one able-bodied fullback for the Nebraska game.

"And if Armand Baughman gets hurt, we're in trouble," coach Jack Mitchell said. Willis Brooks, 3rd string fullback who has had a shoulder dislocation 3 times, was called back to duty.

Con Keating was switched from quarterback to defensive fullback to take up some of the slack.

Wesleyan led 13-6 at half-time but yielded a pair of touchdowns to the young Vikings in the 3rd quarter.

"I'm scared and worried about the Nebraska game," Mitchell said. "The winner will be in good shape in the Big 8 race, and the loser will be out of business."

"I'm scared and worried about the Nebraska game," Mitchell said. "The winner will be in good shape in the Big 8 race, and the loser will be out of business."

Ceresco's loss was a forfeit to Mead in the season's opener because of an ineligible player. Lawrence lost to Fairmont.

Hayes Center replaces Winnebago as the 8-man champion.

Dorchester, Loomis, Fairmont and Elmwood were in last year's final chart.

All are unbeaten.

U.N. Recommends Rap Of So. Africa

United Nations, N.Y. (P) — The U.N. General Assembly Tuesday recommended severe trade and diplomatic boycotts of South Africa with the aim of forcing an end to that country's white supremacy policies.

If such punitive steps fail, the assembly recommended, the Security Council should consider ordering South Africa expelled from the United Nations.

An almost solid African-Asian-Soviet bloc front was reflected in the 67-16 vote on a resolution sponsored by Asian-African group of nations. A similar measure failed last year in the assembly for lack of a two-thirds majority.

Among those voting against the measure were the United States and western European countries, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Canada and Turkey. All are involved in trade with South Africa.

Twenty-three countries abstained, most of them on grounds that they abhorred apartheid (racial segregation) but opposed punitive measures to fight it. Some also questioned whether the trade boycotts could be effective.

The vote was overwhelmingly above the needed two-thirds majority of those present and voting. Abstentions are not counted as votes.

Under the resolution, the assembly deplores South Africa's refusal to hold pleases of the United Nations since 1946 to abandon its racist policies

Under the resolution, the assembly deplores South Africa's refusal to hold pleases of the United Nations since 1946 to abandon its racist policies and asks U.N. members to act—separately or collectively—to carry out boycotts against South Africa.

These would include breaking diplomatic relations, closing all ports to South African vessels, prohibiting their own ships from entering South African ports, boycotting all South African goods and barring exports of goods, arms and ammunition to South Africa, and barring South African planes from their territory.

The assembly can only recommend penalties. The Security Council can order them.

Church Dedication Attended By 1,300

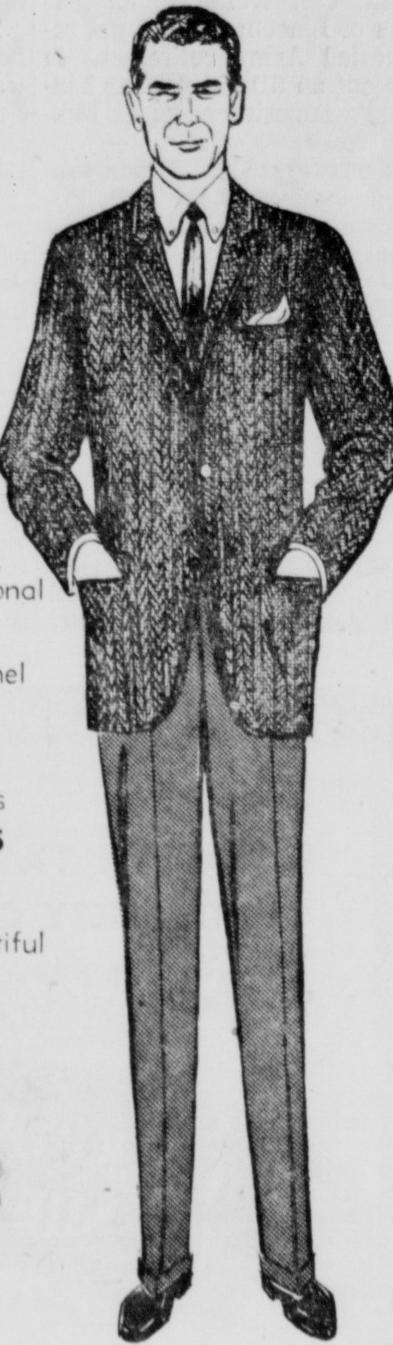

Osmond — Near 1,300 persons attended dedication services here for the new church of Immanuel Lutheran congregation.

The Rev. Frederick Niedner of West Point, president of the Northern Nebraska District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, spoke at the morning dedication service.

Pastor Robert Holstein of Grand Forks, N.D., son of the late Rev. Erich Holstein, pastor of Immanuel Church from 1926-1945, delivered the sermon at the afternoon service.

2 Lanes Of Interstate Are Rushed

Interstate Highway 80 west of Lincoln will probably only have two lanes of traffic this winter instead of 4 as planned. Deputy State Engineer G. C. Strobel indicated Tuesday.

Construction of 4 lanes from the Lincoln Air Force Base west to Nebraska 15 is underway now. Two two-lane concrete strips have been built but a good deal of asphalt shoulder remains to be finished and engineers consider the road too hazardous for safe driving without shoulders.

Strobel said the State Department of Roads is now trying to get the two north lanes open west to Highway 15 for two-way traffic west by the start of winter.

"Should we be so lucky as to get good weather, we would complete all 4 lanes all the way to Highway 15 by the end of this year. But I'm not optimistic," Strobel said.

He indicated it is more likely the Highway Department will complete only the north two lanes and provide a temporary connection with the divided 4-lane Interstate 80 somewhere west of the Air Force Base.

Regents Exam Scheduled For 5,200 Students

More than 5,200 students from 429 Nebraska high schools will be competing Wednesday for the annual University of Nebraska Regents scholarships.

For the first time in the history of the university, the students will be competing for 100 full-tuition scholarships for 4 full years of study in addition to the 250 freshman one-year scholarships.

The examination will be given in the individual high schools.

The Board of Regents boosted the value of the scholarships from $100 to $204 a year.

Dean Robert Ross of the division of student affairs said the 4-year scholarships, to go into effect for the 1963-64 school year, will not be re-awarded if any of the 100 top scorers fail to accept the award.

New Tax Retirement Act Reduces Existing Inequities

By Merryle S. Rukeyser
The Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act, recently passed, in addition to achieving direct objectives, also suggests a broad principle for constructive treatment of the growing ratio of so-called senior citizens.

Instead of providing handouts for persons over 65, whether they need them or not, a sounder approach is to give remedial tax treatment.

Already the broad philosophy has been adopted by Congress in taking the ceiling off allowable medical deductions beginning at age 65, and the doubling of the size of personal exemptions of septuagenarians and of persons who are legally blind.

Equitable Treatment

The goal should be equitable treatment of those of advanced years without placing undue and unwarranted burdens on young persons. Obviously, wherever there is any differentiation whatever of tax treatment, there is necessarily a shifting of governmental costs. But where this is deemed socially desirable, it should be done in a statesmanlike and restrained manner. The neglect

U.S. Keeps Pressure On Russia

... To Respect Pledge

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The United States increased pressure on the Soviet Union Tuesday night to abide by its pledge to remove Soviet offensive weapons, including missiles, from Cuba under international verification.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson conferred with Vasili V. Kuznetsov, first deputy Soviet foreign minister, at the U.S. mission to the United Nations.

At U.N. headquarters, acting secretary-General U Thant met with officials of the International Red Cross on arrangements for inspection by their organization of Cuban-bound Soviet ships.

Thant saw Paul Ruegger, former president of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), and Melchior Borsinger, secretary of the ICRC executive board, who flew here from Geneva. Thant was reported confident of completing agreement for the ship inspection.

Signs of Impatience

There were increasing signs of U.S. impatience over lack of results from Soviet-Cuban negotiations to carry out Premier Khrushchev's pledges on verification of removal of missiles and dismantling of bases.

In Havana, Soviet first deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan met with Cuban prime minister Fidel Castro tonight for the fourth day in a row. There was no immediate official indication of what took place, but the number of Mikoyan-Castro talks and the secrecy around them indicated the Soviet trouble-shooter was having difficulty getting Castro to accept on-site inspection of the Soviet missile withdrawal.

Russillo Group Reports $2,400 Campaign Gifts

Omaha State Sen. Mike Russillo received $2,425 in contributions of $25 or more toward his campaign for re-election from the Ninth District, according to a report filed with the secretary of state by John R. Meanner, treasurer of "Friends of Russillo."

The report said $1,370 was expended on the campaign. Russillo was opposed by Lary E. Welch of Omaha.

Eastern Air Lines Grounds 3 Pilots

... Photos Showed Lax Cockpit Conditions

New York (UPI) — Eastern Air Lines announced Tuesday it has grounded 3 of its captains because of photographs taken more than 3 years ago showing lax cockpit conditions, including one showing a hostess sitting on a pilot's lap.

Officials here identified the Greek-registered vessel as the S.S. Angelos which already has undergone inspection by a U.S. military attache at its last port of call — Abidjan, Ivory Coast.

The permit to proceed to Cuba was issued when the inspection showed the cargo consisted of wheat flour, dried peas, tin plate, steel wire and "various lubricants, including gun grease." None of these items is on the embargo list of military weapons issued by President Kennedy in the Cuban blockade.

Meat Plant Land Bought At West Point

Omaha (AP) — Armour and Co., one of the nation's largest meat packers, has purchased land near West Point, Neb., for the site of a new $2 million beef slaughtering plant.

The Cuming County site is south of West Point on Highway 275, and was purchased from Matthew Herman, Jack Thomas, Armour vice president, reported. Thomas said he could not give details of the purchase.

Plans for the plant, along with two other slaughterhouses, were announced earlier this year by William Wood Prince, Armour board chairman.

Construction of the plant, which will employ 80 to 90 persons, is expected to be completed within a year. It will have a capacity of more than 100,000 head of cattle a year.

Hungary Holds Briton As Spy

Budapest, Hungary (AP) — The Ministry of the Interior disclosed Tuesday its agents have arrested a wealthy British businessman, Greville Maynard Wynne, "on well-founded suspicions of espionage."

The ministry announcement, carried by the official Hungarian news agency Tid, did not elaborate.

A spokesman of the British legation in Budapest said the legation had protested the arrest but had received no response from Hungarian authorities.

Some Agreement In Newspaper Tiff

New York (UPI) — A spokesman for Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz Tuesday night announced "tentative agreement has been reached on all but the major issues" in a 6 day strike that has forced the New York Daily News to suspend publication.

The statement came after representatives of the News and the American Newspaper Guild (AFL-CIO) met with federal mediators for several hours during the afternoon.

Thomas J. Murphy, chief negotiator for the New York Newspaper Guild, said there has been "progress in general." There was no comment on the day's talks from spokesmen of the News.

Reg C. Roper Is Improving, Was Critical

Reginald C. Roper, an officer of Roper & Sons Mortuaries, since 1878, has been improving, according to the husband of Hulda Roper, Lincoln policewoman.

Three persons, two Monday and one Tuesday, answered a call from hospital officials for blood donors of Type B, RH negative — a relatively rare kind — to meet the need for transfusions caused by Roper's internal hemorrhaging.

But officials said Tuesday night that "his condition continues to improve and, barring any further hemorrhaging, he is out of the critical stage."

No more donors are needed at the moment, they added, since they already have several units of his blood type on the laboratory shelves.

Surgery is not being considered at the moment for Roper, secretary-treasurer of Roper & Sons, Inc., officials said, but it is still a possibility at some future time.

Spectators Hostile To Doctor

At MERCY KILLING TRIAL IN BELGIUM

Liege, Belgium — The judge presiding at the mercy killing trial of Suzanne Vandeput threatened to clear the courtroom Tuesday after spectators showed hostility to the doctor who delivered her thalidomide-deformed baby.

Dr. Edouard Weerts, 37, denied repeatedly under sharp defense cross-examination that he told the family in response to pleas he let the infant die: "There is nothing I can do. Do it yourself."

The 24-year-old blonde mother has confessed killing her 8-day old daughter Carinne — born without arms — with poisoned milk after a series of conferences with her frantic family.

Chief defense counsel Jacques Mottart accused Dr. Weerts of lying and declared: "The accused have never denied having taken their tragic decision. They have said that they did not regret it. Does anyone really believe they would try to defend themselves by lying repeatedly in reporting what Dr. Weerts told them?"

Angry rumbles came from the spectators' seats as Dr. Weerts testified he never suggested the family should kill the baby if they wanted to — or that he would not try to keep the infant alive. The doctor said his life has been threatened and he has been swamped with insulting letters and phone calls ever since the case became known last May.

Four others are on trial with Mrs. Vandeput as accomplices — her husband, Jean, 35; her mother, Mrs. Fernande Yerna, 50; her sister, Mrs. Monique de la Marek, and the family physician, Dr. Jacques Casters.

The court was shaken to hushed silence at the opening of the second day of the trial with the disclosure that Dr. Casters' sister-in-law had given birth to a deformed thalidomide baby boy only Monday. The boy is without arms but may be equipped with artificial arms, defense counsel said.

U.S. RECALLS RITZMANN

Ottawa — The United States has recalled its Atomic Energy Commission liaison officer in Canada for challenging "the image that Canada is our good friend."

The U.S. Embassy said Robert W. Ritzmann, who has been serving in Canada for about two years, had been called home on orders of the U.S. State Department.

A letter appearing in the Washington Post under Ritzmann's name criticizing Canada's role in the Cuban crisis got the American atomic technical representative into hot water.
